Public Opinion Is Power
Old England Worried
A Swallow's Heart
Death's Fair Fountain

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright 1935, Hear Co.

PUBLIC OPINION, especially, is powerful. It has proved itself strong enough to control the government of Russia, causing a postponement, permanent, perhaps, of the execution of Beria, of the president of the Russian Catholic hierarchy. Appeals and protests reached Russia from all over the globe, from many governments, from radical workers in France, from rabbles in New York, from enemies of Russia in Poland and elsewhere, but especially from friends of Russia.

Those who believe that Russia has lost its influence are mistaken.

A SPECIAL WIRELESS tells across the ocean of England's worry over the military power of the French.

The House of Commons, newspapers and military experts anxiously dwell upon France's overwhelming power in the air.

England and her cities would be at the mercy of France's war submarines building guns on feverishly in France—where they have wisely lost interest in battleships.

French submarines could make it impossible for the English's mercantile fleets to feed the English or supply them with raw materials.

ENGLAND HAS 32 "air squadrons," France has 260 "air squadrons." England once ruled the waves, now France rules the air waves and ocean waves no longer count.

England's deep worry was this expressed by Major Turner, British military expert, in the London Daily Telegraph: "Before 1914 we were content with our small army, knowing that at the worst, we should have time to create armies. That assurance has gone forever. For within a few hours of a rupture of peace, our home workshops, transport and munition plants would be attacked."

ATTACK WOULD come through the air. No time to mobilize troops, no time to get your feet in action, no possibility of using that fleet, with dynamite from the air and from submarines making battleships easy targets.

No wonder the government of Great Britain offers five million pounds in subsidy to any reasonable concern that will develop commercial aviation.

AND WHAT about that famous "League of Nations"? If it can't keep England from worrying about her "dear ally," France, how will it prevent war in general? And why would this nation become mixed up with a league that cannot even protect nations from fear of each other's flying machines?

Great Britain's air ministry has developed a 1,600 horsepower flying engine that will burn crude oil, instead of gasoline, and carry two to one hundred passengers across the Atlantic. Such an engine, properly developed, is worth more to England than half a dozen Leagues of Nations.

A SWALLOW IDENTIFIED by a band on its leg is found dead in South Africa, having flown six thousand miles, from Langhorne, a village in Wales.

There is a wonderful engine for men. That they heart of a swallow, smaller than your finger tip, carrying its owner across oceans, one-quarter the distance around the world.

It makes our flying machines seem childlike, but men have only started. When they borrow the swan's power, or the forces locked up in the atom, they will surprise and surpass the swallows.

To build an engine as small as your fist, capable of generating ten thousand horsepower, would seem like foolish raving now, but you can't tell what such engines will build such engines, and talk to each other, and they will be the world's best flying machines, as they fly collectively or individually wherever they please.

"The birds of travelers fly over our town today," the small newspaper will say.

However, what we need just now is better thinking, rather than better machines. It is the machine in man's skull that needs improvement.

SWAGMUTINE will celebrate, with a magnificent breast, the anniversary of Ponce

THREE HEARD VICTIM NAME BOGAN AS SLAYER

Witnesses Describe Meeting

Inspector and Police Sergeant Present When Sequestered Ex-Dry Agent

Edward Bogan, former prohibition officer, admitted, in the presence of Boston police officials, that he shot Joseph Sequeira, according to testimony presented today.

Inspector James H. Donohue and Sergeant Maurice Sullivan, of Station 1, said that when Sequeira, on his death bed at the Metropolitan Police Station, said, "That is the man who shot me," he was pointing at Bogan, that the latter moved his head and said "Yes, he is right, I shot him."

This meeting of the dying man and his alleged slayer took place early on the morning of June 11 in the operating room of the relief station.

Bogan, with his partner Joseph Perrault and Stephen Nelson, was in a "raid" when he was in front of Sequeira for identification. Sequeira indicated Bogan when he said "That is the man who shot me."

Inspector Donohue testified that Bogan's face was flushed and he had apparently been drinking. Bogan was, however, able to walk and talk in normal manner, he said. Nelson was very drunk, according to the inspector.

Sequeira's condition corroborated his superior's testimony, relative to the visit to the relief station. He also told of inspecting the weapons taken from the two prohibition men after their arrest. Bogan's gun, he declared, had two discharged cartridges and three loaded shells.

Patrolman Harold C. Irving, of Station 1, told of rushing into the North Perry after he heard two shots and of ordering the two Pauls to get up "throw up your hands" and of confronting them in the toll room.

Patrolman Mooney testified that he was at the police station when Bogan and Perrault were brought in and that both were under the influence of liquor.

He related how Bogan and Perrault were taken, with a number of other men, to the Metropolitan Police Station and lined up before a bed on which Bogan lay.

"That is the man," said Sequeira, according to Mooney.

"What do you mean by that?" was asked.

"That is the man who shot me," Mooney testified Sequeira then said, pointing at Bogan.

FIRE VICTIMS SUFFER FROM ZERO BLASTS

Fort Revere soldiers fight fire. Soldiers of Companies F and H of the 2nd United States Infantry from Fort Revere, under the command of Major Rino, fought the fire, guarded property and laid back eight hours at the Nantasket fire. The men were covered with mud as they performed heroic duty. On their way to the fire an automobile crashed into the rear of their column and two privates were badly injured.

Widow quits race for Joyce's seat. Mrs. Catherine M. Joyce, widow of Representative Thomas M. Joyce of Roxbury, who was to have been a candidate for her late husband's seat in the House at a special primary election next Tuesday, has withdrawn from the contest. She has accepted a $1,200 clerical position at the courthouse, under Sheriff John A. Sullivan.

Army plane fleet leaves for Miami. Havana, March 29.—The six United States army aviators on a test flight from San Antonio, Texas, to San Juan, Porto Rico, and from there to Washington, D. C., left here today for Miami.

They expected to make the trip to Washington in one daily home, probably arriving there the first of next week.

Buildings Burned. Following is a partial list of owners of the buildings destroyed in the Nantasket fire.

ON NANTASKET AVENUE. Mrs. Mary J. Tremaine. Lawrence Coffey. Mrs. Rosanna Flood. James Kilbourn. George Kilbourn. Chief E. P. Wilford. Mrs. Carrie Wade. Louis Covitz, three houses. Patrick G. Butler. Thomas Wierman.

ON PARK AVENUE. Edward Keane. Joseph Keane, two houses. William Cahill. Four other houses.

ON PARK AVENUE. William Thomas. John Cooper. ON PARK AVENUE. David Stone, two houses. Fred Richards, two houses.

ON PARK AVENUE. The Palm Garden. Virginia Reed. Giant Heller Coaster. David Stone. Number of stands, picture galleries and booths.

ROCKLAND CIRCLE. Alford. Headmaster. Fred Dodge. DAMAGED, BUT SAVED. Police Headquarters. Damon Stone. Miss of Chief Reynolds. A score of others.

Neel was picked up by the tank steamer Yeovil, which had been alerted by distress signals, and was brought home.

A tug rescuing for an ocean liner reported in distress, was forced to return before the heavy seas into New London without leaving the disabled ship.

The five-masted schooner, Dorothea Palmer of Portland, bound for Newport, was wrecked on Stone Horse Shoal near Chatham. The coast guard cutter Aqueduct was standing by, and the schooner tried to get the schooner off in a breezy blow for the coast guard crew from Monmouth.

A coast guard cutter was reported riding on the shoal at points along the New England seaboard, waiting for quiet seas before attempting to get the schooner off.

The other report was that a boat got the schooner off.

7 TO 8 YEARS' SENTENCE FOR PARIS.

Springfield, March 29.—Joseph P. ... was today sentenced by Judge Webster Thayer to State Prison for seven years to ten years for manslaughter. Paris was tried for murder. The jury recommended a life term. Judge Thayer criticized the jury for recommending life imprisonment.

A jury is expected to bring in a verdict. To recommend extreme leniency is a bad precedent. The court fears that there might be serious consequences if bargaining were permitted by jurors.

Rural Ward, Carlo Sincich, known as the "King of Little Italy," was sentenced to State Prison for ten years for manslaughter. Paris was tried for murder. The jury recommended a life term. Judge Thayer criticized the jury for recommending life imprisonment.

BANDIT'S ROB WEST END STORE

Two Are Held Up at Point of Gun White Robbers Grab Money

Two holdup men today entered the grocery store of Nathan Rutstein of No. 43 Chambers street, West End, and escaped with $155 taken from the cash till.

One of the men held Rutstein back with a gun as he rifled the till, while the other forced John Brown, a clerk, into a back room and held him up with a gun.

Ten days after the order was made Mrs. Rutstein was granted a divorce, which the court ruled relieved Rutstein of legal obligation to continue payments. He told the court he had paid a total of $1,500.

PAYS ALIMONY 14 YEARS; HIS MISTAKE

Pittsburgh, March 29.—Alimony paid for fourteen years by George Rutstein to his former wife was without legal obligation. Judge Ambrose B. Field ruled in a recent order made in January 1921, directing payment of $20 weekly towards her support.

Ten days after the order was made Mrs. Rutstein was granted a divorce, which the court ruled relieved Rutstein of legal obligation to continue payments. He told the court he had paid a total of $1,500.

DROPS DEAD IN PEW AT HOLY COMMUNION

Just after he had received Holy Communion in the Church of the Descent from the Cross at Holy Park, a service which he had followed on every day during the recent Lenten season, John Quisenberry, sixty-six years old of No. 1461 Hyde Park avenue, Hyde Park, and for forty years a member of that church, dropped dead in his pew in the church today.

Dr. David W. Henson rushed to the stricken man, but the latter had died. Death was attributed to heart disease.

Mr. Quisenberry was born in Waterford, Ireland, but had lived in Hyde Park most of his life. He was the father of Mrs. Walter A. Quisenberry of the Mary of Ansel Church in Roxbury. He was a devout church member. He was affiliated with St. John's Church, C. of C. and Division No. 1, A. O. H.

MEXICO'S "REGRETS" SENT TO CONGRESS

Mexico City, March 23.—Felix Paredes, Brazilian minister of Brazil, today cabled to Senator Paul, Mexican foreign minister, the regrets of Brazil that Mexico is not represented at the Pan-American conference at Santiago, Chile.

GIRL, 14, OFF TO BE FILM STAR,
IS PUT AWAY

Springfield, March 23.—Anna Springer, fourteen years old, star of the silent screen, was put away in the hospital today after a long illness. She had been in the hospital for several weeks, and her condition was reported as improving.

Anna left her home at No. 140 Sharon street Tuesday night, with her mother, and was found in the hospital today.

Anna's parents took her home when they were informed by the superintendent of a shirt factory that she would have to have a school record. When she failed to produce her fare the taxi driver turned her over to the police.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the solution for colic—give a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They cause no dizziness or headache. They are safe for the child and the adult. Why cure the liver quickly correct the bowels. Calomel is the enemy of the liver. Calomel is the enemy of the liver. Calomel is the enemy of the liver.

REST OF WORLD OWES U. S. 21 BILLIONS

By ROBT. S. THORNBURG,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, March 28.—In a bill this to the $16,000,000,000 that other nations owe the United States, America has nearly $5,000,000,000 invested in private commercial and industrial enterprises in foreign countries according to an official communication given International News Service by Governor M. Jones, chief of the financial division of the Department of Commerce.

ENIGMAS REVEALED

"New York view with London as a great international loan market," Jones declared. "The change of our position from that of a debtor nation to that of an international money center came with the war and its financial aftermath."

"For a time New York dominated international finance, but England's remarkable financial system, her discount and acceptance methods by which she finances her own foreign trade as well as that of many other countries, her balanced budget of the last two years and adjustment of the American debt greatly restricted the British sterling to its pre-war position."

"London will always have a rival in New York, however. Never will Britain control the United States financially."

OWED TO BRITAIN

Against America's $16,000,000,000 invested in other countries British capital of about $14,000,000,000 is said to have dominated. The allied debt to Great Britain is approximately $600,000,000.

Great Britain, Jones pointed out, is in the whole in a better position to finance foreign enterprises than the United States. Great Britain has more accumulated capital, since her industrial development has reached its height.

On the other hand, the big percent of American capital is invested in the United States. An even larger per cent is necessary in the present reconstruction period because of the demand for stimulation and expansion of railroads, irregular production, development of new materials, therefore controlled by other countries and road building.

URGE U. S. SHIP LAW FOR PHILIPPINES

Washington, March 28.—Extension to the Philippines of laws governing cooperative shipping was urged today by a committee from the Council of American Shippers, in conference with the Shipping Board, as one method of immediately relieving the situation of the national merchant marine.

Honor L. Ferguson, president of the Newport News Drydock & Shipbuilding Company, headed the committee, which met with members of the board.

Yesterday while crossing a large field just off of Huntington Avenue a falling object hit me on the head and of all things, it was a potato. Well, as I looked up I noticed about two hundred feet up, an airplane from which potatoes were falling in profusion. I watched for some time until it came down, and then it landed out in the farmer who lived close by and who was sowing the potatoes.

"When I asked him who he sowed them in that manner he told me that that way he did away with the trouble of digging holes in the field, because the potatoes falling so far,

3 MEN, 1 WOMAN KILLED IN KY. STILL RAID

Marion, Ky., March 28.—County officers and posses had returned today from the hills of Leslie County, with an account of the desperate last stand of "the Strongs," a party in which Kelly Walker, deputy sheriff, Isaac and George Strong and Mrs. Isaac Strong were killed. Carried a warrant for the arrest of Isaac Strong on charges of liquor violations, twenty-two posses arrived at the Strong house and surrounded the house. Deputy Walker advanced with the warrant.

A hidden mattress found and Walker staggered with a wound in the breast. As he lay for over a second bullet pierced his head.

Two posses concentrated a withering fire on the houses from behind trees and ledges. As the steel-jacketed slugs were sent zipping through the walls of the building the fire of the defenders became unsteady and finally ceased.

When the officers entered the house the two men and Mrs. Strong were dead. The woman was found with a repeating rifle in her hands. From their hiding place under a table the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Strong crawled out after they had been reassured by officers.

Two girls were found in a strongly barricaded position back of the house. They were destroyed together with 700 gallons of still beer.

The Strong brothers had been regarded as desperate characters, and members of an extensive moonshining band.

FRANCE PAYS BERNHARDT LAST HONORS

Paris, March 29. (By the Associated Press.)—Paris paid today its last tribute of respect to the great French tragedian.

Crowds that gathered at the church of St. Francois de Sales for the noon-day service and to the cemetery Pere Lachaise, moved anxiously for her whom they loved so well and they brought in profusions of the tributes of flowers she requested.

Bernhardt's body rested in the rosewood casket which she ordered made thirty years ago. On the breast of her white satin dress was pinned the cross of the Legion of Honor, while about her neck was the gold locket containing the likeness of her son Maurice.

The ceremony at the church was simple, for Bernhardt had expressed a wish that there be no religious. The vault that received her body was also unostentatious. On it was one word, "Bernhardt."

The streets leading to the church had been a veritable flower-carpet all the morning, as the offerings from the Bernhardt Theatre, the Opera Comique, the Comedie Francaise and from individuals of every rank of the world of art had been placed there.

The exterior of the little church was surmounted with black banners, and with a fringe of white and with the letters of the actress, "B. H." prominently displayed. The interior likewise was draped in black.

The bier was placed at the head of the nave, elevated about ten feet, and surrounded with several rows of candles, with a cross of lilacs four feet high at the foot.

The ceremony in the church ended at 1 o'clock, the coffin was placed in a hearse, covered with flowers and followed by five floats each drawn by two horses and each bearing a multitude of flowers ten to twenty feet high—the tributes that had been sent to the great tragedienne.

THOUSANDS VIEW CORTEGE.

As the procession began to move toward the cemetery Pere La Chaise, thousands of people were to be seen in every direction from the church. Police estimated that 1,800,000 persons viewed the cortege.

James K. Hackett was present at the church as the representative of American and English writers and players; President Millerand was represented by Leon Bernard, minister of education, and the French government by M. Hodel, minister of theatrical regions.

DENIES FIRM IN HUB
ARMY FRAUD CASE

Washington, March 29.—London anti-Colonel Arthur A. O'Brien, accused of conspiracy to pass an alleged false claim of $25,000 for repairs to the government-owned Navy building in Boston during the war, pleaded not guilty in Criminal Court today and posted $5,000 bail for his future appearance.

Bernard Rogers, Jr., and Bride Spend Honeymoon Abroad, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN

IT wasn't much of a surprise to hear that the Bernard P. Rogers, Jr. (Nina Higginson), had already sailed from these shores to spend their wedding journey in travels abroad.

Both the dark-haired daughter of the Francis Higginson and the Yale man, whose bride she became on Saturday, are known for their devotion to the little goal of wanderlust. The former Nina Higginson has been wont to spend the long months of the year in Europe, while the latter, who has been known for his "roughing it" in a Rocky Mountain camp, or a lazy winter in the South Sea Isles.

As for young Rogers, who hails from Chicago, he's certainly entitled to the name of adventurer. In fact, he was with Sir and Mrs. Albert Gosses when the latter made their astounding trip around the world on board their ninety-eight foot motor-boat, the "Super-Jack."

This remarkable little boat left New York late in the summer of 1921, returning to that port about a year and a half later. The interior it had encountered all sorts of weather and perils. It made its hazardous way across the Pacific to Honolulu, the South Sea Isles, New Zealand, Australia, Java, Sumatra, Japan, China, India, the Mediterranean port, Gibraltar, and then the long final lap home. It was the first time that a power yacht of less than one hundred feet had encircled the globe.

If Boston society has lost one of its jolliest members with the marriage of Nina Higginson to the young Chicagoan, at least one adventure has found another.

DR. AND MRS. ROBERT W. LOVETT, who joined the Boston colony at Alton, N. C., for the late season, gave a luncheon there the other day. Their guests included Mr. Cameron Forbes and Judge Robert Grant, both Boston as well as Mr. and Mrs. Parker Corning and Mrs. Joseph Letzer.

MISS ELA SNELLING, along with some half dozen other girls, has been asked to play the role of cigarette and flower vendor on April 5, the evening of the much-heralded cabaret for the Infants' Hospital.

Mrs. P. L. W. Richardson has charge of this group, which includes also pretty Vera Howell, whose recently announced engagement to George Richmond Peering, 34, created a considerable furor; the Misses Frances Wells, Margery Richard, Nell White, Helen Scott, Laura Taylor and Elton Sutton.

Apprentice of Ella Snelling, she and her parents, the Redman P. Snellings of Commonwealth avenue and Beverly Farms, are leaving shortly after the cabaret for their annual spring sojourn at Hot Springs, Virginia. Potts Mary Wells is to leave for Hot Springs at about the same time, I believe, and Miss Snelling are close friends, and if I remember correctly, went abroad together some time ago.

MRS. CHARLES L. HARDING, one of the leading members of the Boston contingent at Palm Beach, gave a dinner there the other eve. Her guests included Mrs. Fred Plerson, Jr., Miss Emily Plerson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Love, Angier H. Love and Seth Sugars, the latter formerly of Boston.

Apprentice of Palm Beach—among them making a winter season of it there—are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Amory and the Reginald Barmans of Boston. Mrs. Amory and Mr. Barmans are also daughters of the late Mrs. Charles Mann of New York and Manchester-by-the-Sea.

Miss Ella Snelling—seen here as the duty power-puff girl portrayed at a charity function some time ago—will be one of the cigarette and flower vendors at the Infants' Hospital cabaret April 5.

BIG SUM LOST BY CUTTING OF NETS

Glasgow, March 29.—Gill net fishermen have lost thousands of dollars through the stiff cutting by "bolshers," who have caught trawls in nets.

Canada, William L. Ford, who caught two men in a dory in the act of shunning his nets, was threatened with a fine when he protested. The Chamber of Commerce presented to Collector of Port Louis of Boston, who ruled the cutting constituted piracy and issued orders to the coast guard to seek the valuable and arrest all offenders at once.

PLANT $230,000 RADIO STATION IN FLORIDA

Miami, Fla., March 29.—Construction of a huge radio terminal claimed to be the second largest in the country, was started at Hialeah, near here, today by the Tropical Radio Telegraph Company. The plant is to handle all of the South American, Central American and West Indian business and will cost about $230,000. The towers will be 437 feet high with a span of 1,500 feet.

DEMANDS THAT HARDING CUT SUGAR DUTY

Washington, March 29.—While the Tariff Commission was preparing for a broadened inquiry to determine whether present import duties were "evenly" responsible for high sugar prices, Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, declared in a published statement today that it had become the duty of the commission to report "immediately" to the President that it "was partially responsible."

Chairman Hull asserted that on a "buyers' market," a 50 per cent. reduction in the sugar tariff, which the President would be authorized to make under the flexible provisions of the tariff act, would certainly reduce the retail price between two and three cents a pound.

"Although the President has had to believe that the tariff is responsible even in part for the high price of sugar," Mr. Hull said, "the Tariff Commission should nevertheless do its plain duty in the matter, in order that the President may carry out his promise and thus give the people some measure of relief."

"When the government gets in arrears as a result of this tariff inflation on sugar as well as other commodities, it should do something to relieve the situation."

A Beautiful Small Grand

To tell the true story of its value, its price should be higher—much higher. In fact, at no time in the past few years has such a fine piano been offered at such a remarkably low cost. While the price remains low you should make your selection.

The Tears of the Daughters of Helios

PHAETHON, the favorite child of the Sun-God Helios, attempted one day to drive the horses harnessed to the chariot of the sun. He lost control of the wild steeds and plunged toward the earth, setting it afire.

Zeus, seeing the fight of the god, launched a thunderbolt at the luckless youth, who was thrown into the Eridanus. The naiads of the stream tenderly buried the body on the shore nearby.

Phaethon's sisters, after long searching, found the tomb of their brother. As they stood listlessly weeping they were further punished for encouraging their brother in his wild adventure. For the gods turned them into trees from whose branches tears continually fell.

These tears were hardened by the sun and became beautiful amber as they fell into the river.

And so, according to the legend, the tears of the Heliades have for centuries been fashioned into exquisite amber jewelry.

We have some beautiful amber necklaces and earrings now on display.

FOSTER TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN DEFENCE

By Associated Press
St. Joseph, Mo., March 29.—William Z. Foster, charged with criminal syndicalism, took the stand in his own defense today.

He testified he had been a member of the A. W. N. S. (National Union) since 1910. He said he was a member of the Communist Union and other organizations. He quit the A. W. N. S. because he no longer agreed with its policies and program.

Foster denied he was a member of any political party or that he belonged to the Communist party in August, 1922. Previously the prosecution had introduced a questionaire, alleged to have been made out by Foster, which stated he was a Communist party member. The witness described a trip to Russia in 1921, when he attended the third congress of the Communist International at Moscow as a visitor. He said he did not represent the Nation, a New York publication.

and the Associated Press on this trip. He said he first learned of the indictment two or three days before he came to it. He denied he was a delegate to the convention, but said he delivered an impromptu speech.

QUINCY JANIOR IS ORDERED REINSTATED
Judge Albert E. Avery today ordered John J. Fallon reinstated as justice at Quincy City Hall. Fallon had been removed by Howard J. Crocker, Commissioner of Public Works. He appealed under the civil service ruling for a hearing at which Crocker sustained his decision, and then Fallon carried the case to the court. The decision is a blow to Mayor Bates administration. Former Mayor Bradford, defeated by Fallon last Fall, appeared as a witness for Fallon.

CANADA PROTESTS SWISS DRUG TRAFFIC
Geneva, March 29. (By International News Service)—Canada today lodged formal complaint with the League of Nations against the smuggling of drugs from Switzerland into Canadian territory. The complaint stated that 442 pounds of morphine, 117 pounds of heroin and 62 pounds of cocaine had been shipped to the knowledge of Canadian officials. The Swiss government promises to make an investigation.

BOSTON AMERICAN'S TWO PAGES OF LAUGHTER

Bobbie and His Pa

By W. F. Fink

It was a very warm day in the city of Boston, and the sun was shining brightly. Bobbie and his father were walking along the beach, and Bobbie was holding a large net. His father was looking at the net and saying, "Bobbie, what are you doing with that net?" Bobbie was looking at his father and saying, "I'm going to catch some fish, Pa."

Coué's Book

Self Mastery Through
Conscious Autosuggestion
Only Authorized Book by EMILE COUÉ

It is the first step in the process of self-mastery. The first step is to recognize the fact that you are not a slave to your emotions. You are a free man, and you can control your emotions. You can control your emotions by using the power of autosuggestion. You can control your emotions by using the power of autosuggestion.

To the first, "You, Master, are in pain. I tell you that, from today, the cause of the pain whether it be arthritis or anything else, is going to disappear with the help of your autosuggestion, and the cause having disappeared, the pain will gradually become less and less, and in a short time it will be nothing but a memory."

It is the second step. Your stomach is the most important part of your body. It is the most important part of your body. It is the most important part of your body. It is the most important part of your body.

No Cure for Epilepsy as Yet, Unfortunately

It Will Come in Time, Undoubtedly. Meanwhile, Here Is Advice From a Very Able Doctor

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

A mother writes:

Is there any cure for epilepsy? Do you know of any specialist in that disease? I have a daughter who suffers from epilepsy and would appreciate any information you can give me, as I have tried more than twenty physicians and numbers of other remedies besides without satisfactory results.

MRS. C. D.

There is unfortunately no absolute cure known for epilepsy, one of the most ancient, strange and baffling of all diseases.

Eventually science will conquer that disease undoubtedly as it has conquered others. Meanwhile, the best that can be done is by careful living and diet to modify the violence of attacks, which sometimes pass away entirely.

For the benefit of our readers we have consulted one of the ablest doctors. Below appears the letter received from him.

Sufferers should not try "outside cures" or "quack" remedies. Anybody who says that he can "cure" epilepsy is deceiving you, holding out false hopes and ought to be put in jail.

This letter, written by a thoroughly scientific physician, will be recognized by other conservative physicians as embodying about as much as is now known.

Before using any drugs in the treatment of epilepsy, a doctor, of course, should be consulted. And it may be remembered that in that, as in some other diseases, drugs are of comparatively little avail. Wise living and wise diet are most important.

A DOCTOR ON EPILEPSY

Editor Boston American:

Dear Sir: I know of no "cure" for epilepsy. However, a great deal can be done to control the disease by suitable diet (strictly vegetarian), by careful regulation of the bowels and by the administration of small doses of luminal. On this regime my epileptic patients have gone for a whole year without a seizure, whereas, before, the seizures had not been infrequent. Of course, a great deal depends on how long the illness has lasted and the severity of its original onset. Any neurologist should be able to use the methods suggested.

With kind greetings, I am, very truly yours,

M. D.

A Good Munsey Editorial

The President Will Read It

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

Frank Munsey wrote and published in the New York Herald an editorial about President Harding that every American voter ought to read.

Mr. Munsey reviewed, briefly, brilliantly and fairly, Mr. Harding's many accomplishments in office—his establishment of an excellent budget and system, the satisfactory settlement of the British debt problem and other achievements. Mr. Munsey paid a tribute also to the admirable services rendered to the public by the President when he put Andrew Mellon in charge of the United States Treasury.

Making clear the fact that President Harding is absolutely entitled to the re-nomination that Attorney-General Daugherty promises to him, Mr. Munsey then raised the serious question of the President's apparent desire to put this country in the hands of the "World Court," which is another name or branch of the League of Nations.

Mr. Munsey reminds the President that a man favoring any part of the League of Nations is not the man that the country voted for in 1920.

Mr. Munsey's editorial and blunt speech are timely and necessary. The President, who was himself a newspaper man, will read that editorial carefully.

It expresses the feeling of enough Americans to ELET anybody President and enough to DEFEAT anybody for the Presidency.

Let Grafters Higher Up Be Included

A large number of business concerns in Massachusetts have joined in a petition to the Legislature for a law which would punish employees or agents or representatives of these private companies for engaging in any transactions for a personal profit out of their agency for the company, inconsistent with the company's interests.

Although we need no reason why the late entry should be hurried through this year, we do agree that it is a proper subject for legislation. It is as much a branch of a trust for an employee of a corporation or of a firm to take a personal profit out of transactions for the company or firm as it is to steal trust funds. But let it be included in any legislation for the directors of our banks and to the high as well as the low of officers and clerks and other employees.

For years we have advocated that graft in our banks and among our railroads and public utilities is just as great as it is in any other corporation, and is just as high up and even more flagrant on the higher level than on the lower level. For years the power of the united banks has prevented this legislation. We remember when Congressman Finkham, then a State Senator, urged it term after term, only to see it defeated by the banking interests.

But it is amusing to behold these companies asking for this law. Everyone of them and their directors will tell you he does not believe in the public operation of the railroads. It has been for years a crime for employees of the PUBLIC to graft in this way. Now very belatedly come the private employers and urge that graft rampant in their own private business and that they need the strong arm of the State to protect them.

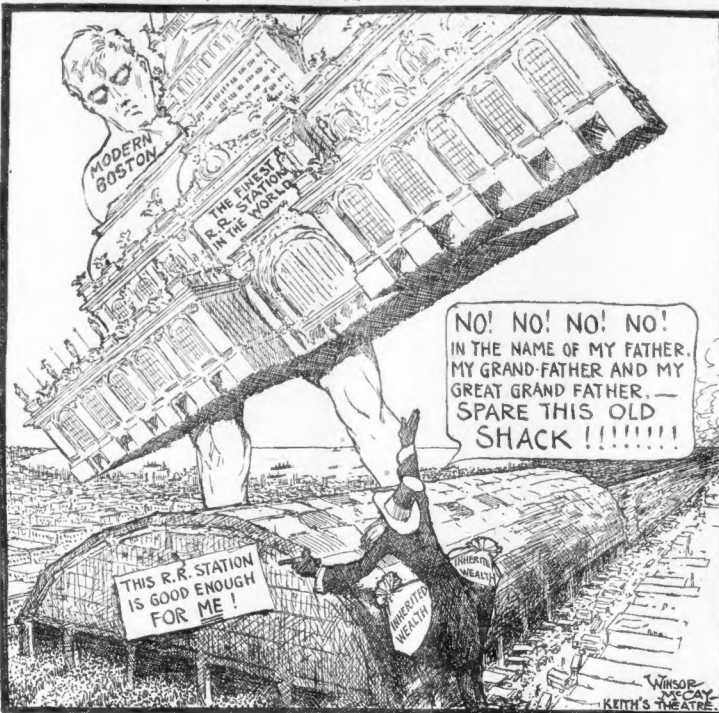

Let them have the protection by all means, but let us be sure that the worst kind of graft and the worst kind of grafters, the grafters higher up, are included in the prohibition and penalties. When we do we shall soon see all opposition to public ownership and operation of the railroads, the telephone and telegraph companies, and the lighting and power companies cease.

Big Responsibility

Editor Boston American:

If we think differently from our fellows, we are more or less afraid to express our opinions. We desire to be noncommittal. "It might hurt my business." But let the public speakers of today express their honest convictions, whether they are approved or not.

May the leaders of today understand their great responsibilities when they address the people. CARRIE B. BARR, Boston.

For America First

Editor Boston American:

Our various French friends, who have separated gullible Americans from thousands of dollars, are going back to "devastated France" to live in comfort unconcernedly while little, undisciplined American girls are taxed to help build up "devastated France" who wouldn't dream of taking her citizenship the way we are taxed to pay her debts, much less to GIVE away to some other country.

Is the money to help "devastated France" or is it to help maintain black troops to "devastated Germany"? For America first. A. L. F.

WORDS FROM THE LIPS OF WISE MEN

An evil intention pervades the best actions.

Every great and commanding movement in the annals of the world is the triumph of enthusiasm.

He who can at all times sacrifice pleasure to duty approaches sublimity.

It is idleness that creates impossibilities—and where men are not to do a thing, they shelter themselves under a persuasion that it cannot be done.

THE HELPING HAND

Do Not Inclose Stamps. Letters Will Not Be Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls. No Names Are Published.

Suit for Tim

Editor Helping Hand:

If you will forward me the address of Tim, I will parcel post a four-year-old suit to him. I also have three union suits to send him. MRS. M. W. W.

ED. NOTE—Tim's address and the address of a Brainerd mother who has a four-year-old boy in need of clothes, will be sent you. Thank you.

Has Baby Clothes

Editor Helping Hand:

Will you please send me the address of a woman who has baby clothes I would like to send her. MRS. A. C.

ED. NOTE—G. K. has already been supplied, and there are no more worthy mothers that need baby clothes that I am taking the address of M. V. P. instead. Those who cannot be published for want of room, in spite of the editorial column.

Will Get Address

Editor Helping Hand:

If you will send me the address of Mrs. E. P. whose appeal was in the American for a coat, size 34, coat and hat, I will be glad to send them to her. MRS. M. B.

From War Bride

Editor Helping Hand:

I wonder if there is a good-hearted lady somewhere who would give a good home for my baby girl, eighteen months old, for about six to ten months? I am a German war bride, only a short time in the United States. My husband hasn't been working much since last August on account of sickness, accident, etc., and I would like to work for a while to help us pay our debts. We have no relatives or acquaintances here. My baby is very healthy and has never been sick, is very bright and exceptionally good. I will gladly do anything in return, maybe some fine embroidery, as I'm an expert needleworker. MRS. E. M.

Family of Eight

Editor Helping Hand:

My husband does not earn enough to supply all we need. We have a family of eight, including six girls from five to thirteen and two boys from eight months to three years, and expect the stock in another month. We are in need of clothing, as the school children must walk good mile and one-half to school and are not very comfortably fixed. MRS. A. N.

Clothes for Baby

Editor Helping Hand:

I use by your column what good you people are doing. I have a few things for a baby and also some clothes for a two-year-old girl and some things for a woman, size 38. MRS. L. L.

ED. NOTE—Mrs. G. L.

the mother of a larger family, will be put in touch with you. Thank you.

To Wear to Work

Editor Helping Hand:

I am very much in need of a long coat, size 48, something I can wear to work. I have a little girl to care for, and as I am not feeling well myself, I cannot do housework. I would like a one-piece dress, or skirt and shoes, or anything. I would gladly give it to her. MRS. M. E. P., whose address you sent me, asks for mums things than I can send her. MRS. G. M. S.

ED. NOTE—The address will be sent you. Thank you. We quite understand that you could not supply all of Mrs. M. E. P.'s needs, but since that was could furnish clothes for the baby. We will keep her in mind.

To Get Address

Editor Helping Hand:

Kindly send me the address of G. K., who needs small child, and I will send post a few. MRS. J. S.

ED. NOTE—G. K. has already been supplied. If you do not mind, we will send you to touch with Mrs. E. P., who is an equally worthy mother. Thank you.

Wants Old Blankets

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a little boy of eight who had a shock when he was seven months old and lost the use of his right side and speech. He is a dear, sweet little fellow, but an awful case. Would appreciate it very much if some of your readers would send me some old blankets or sheets to cut up for him. MRS. A. W. M.

Encloses List

Editor Helping Hand:

I enclose how much good your column is doing. I have picked over some things and found quite a few that will help some needy party. The list is enclosed. MRS. J.

ED. NOTE—Thank you. You will be put in touch with Mrs. E. P., who will be very grateful for these things.

Summer Outfit

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a pretty Summer thing for a woman, measuring twenty-four inches around, color brown and tan. Also have a brown slip-on with shirtdress and a small pink jacket. These three are for a woman 58 bust. I have a few cotton dresses for a girl seven or eight. I would like to get in touch with women who could do some tailoring or crocheting for a bedroom set. L. B. C.

ED. NOTE—You will be put in touch with T. B., who can use the clothes, and with several women who do crocheting. Thank you.

Has Four Girls

Editor Helping Hand:

I have four little girls, eight, five, three years, and nineteen months, and am expecting another arrival in about six weeks. The clothing would help us to get on our feet once more. I am having a very hard time to get over anything that would not fit. MRS. C. W. T.

Home for Dog

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a very nice black dog three years old, brought up with children. I would like to give to someone that would give him a good home. MRS. T. F. H.

ED. NOTE—We always hesitate to dispose of dogs, especially so we will hold your letter for a few days for replies. Thank you.

Crib Requested

Editor Helping Hand:

In these hard times a person that would like to dispose of a crib, bassinet or carriage for a sick six-month-old baby that is now in the hospital, but expects to be home in a few days. The father is working, but has all the doctor's bills to pay. MRS. R. H. H.

MAKING OF MARTYRS IS THE UNMAKING OF NATIONS

By Herbert Kaufman

WORD comes from England of a new searchlight for marine measurements. Several present governments now in very deep water would do well to apply the lesson on their problems.

If the Soviets would seek international opinion, or history for that matter, Archbishop Zelitz, head of the Catholic church in Russia, won't be executed.

The courts have just sentenced him to capital punishment.

The world may some day forgive Bolshevism its debts, but never responsibility for such a death. To kill Zelitz is to grant him eternal life. The making of martyrs is the unmaking of nations. Wise men have known that for over nineteen hundred years.

At the Court of Merlin

One of Bernhardt's physicians is humiliated to think that medicine could do so little in the treatment of an ordinary functional disease. It would have been miraculous if her recklessly driven engines had survived seventy-eight years of abuse.

Steel crystallizes, leather itself splits and cracks in time. Men and shoes may be reconditioned, but not endlessly. The best motor finally passes beyond repair. Human substance in due course exhausts its vitality and stamina.

Surgical job carpenters must acknowledge some limits to their skill, amazing as it may be.

Last week seven stitches were taken in a beating heart, and a hypodermic needle jabbed directly into another, which had quit the job.

Beth Israel Hospital wizards open Henry Brown's head, cut off a piece of his brain and remove a tumor while the patient watches and discusses the performance.

If there's anything to spiritualism, that news will rouse the ghost of Asclepiades.

Lieutenant Maughan, flying at a twenty-foot elevation over Wilbur Wright Field, claims a speed of 250 miles an hour. Five-inch type on every front page in the land if it had happened ten years ago. Now we even take for granted a ninety-minute air-bus line between New York and Newport.

At the Court of Merlin nothing is long marvelous.

Far Better Lenders Than Collectors

Europe continues to haggle over the piddling little quarter of a billion dollars eulched from America's share of German reparations. We're far better lenders than collectors.

If our debtors fight this hard over a comparative trifle, imagine what the negotiations will be when we dare to demand the settlement of great war loans.

It's a good thing we don't need those billions in a hurry. France outlaws the League of Nations in the Ruhr and invokes it against the Monroe Doctrine.

Paris journals condemn our "imperialistic attitude." One of M. Poincaré's favorite enemies. When Britain opposes his Rhine policies he creates a diversion in the Near East. When Washington hints of overdue accounts his inspired editors play for discord at the Santiago conference.

"Isolation" Seems to Pay

As a minority faction in league councils we'd sit in helplessness while foreign blocs overruled one traditional American policy after another. We'd have the least to say and the most to pay. Let's stay home and clip coupons.

Railroad earnings advanced another notch in February. Three thousand new locomotives and one hundred and twenty-five thousand cars are on order. The companies haven't bought so much equipment at once in sixteen years.

Willys Overland profits total the nest sum of $2,000,000. Schuler, Cigar Stores did a little better than that. And the Union Carbide Company finds $11,700,000 on the right side of the ledger.

"Isolation" seems to pay, even if minding other folks' business doesn't. The only noticeable dividends from international partnerships have thus far been hatred and abuse.

Servants, Not Masters, of the News

Hilaire Belloc, a visiting author, paradoxically finds the popular press an unpopulist and ineffective institution. Small and profound weeklies with intensively cultivated views actually form national minds.

We learn that Northcliffe left no mark upon his time. The opinion-making power of the Times, Mail and News perished with his passing. Another assault upon newspaper nobility. A favorite subject for British novels. The distinguished Mr. Belloc recoils much cold label.

No Person Controls Public Opinion—Facts Do

Publishers are news merchants. Fate spins a daily web of events and they out and fashion the fabric. When their judgment inclines to shoddy and meticulous goods, readers soon cease to clothe their minds in the poor stuff.

When they attempt to adulterate printers' ink with cheap sophistry or color it with bias subscribers turn to cleaner, clearer print.

Editors are servants, not masters, of the news. Only experience and slander refuse to believe otherwise.

The Fourth Estate is sacred to ability, not accessible to stupid wealth. It is a money-making field, but money cannot take it.

Andrew Carnegie on six different occasions financed London dailies and met with six dismal failures.

The late William Waldorf Astor eventually bought his way into aristocracy, but the millions he poured into the Pall Mall Magazine and Pall Mall Gazette could not extend their circulation.

Wall Street's unlimited money and limited ideas have never improved the quality of the properties which, every now and then, have been futiley dominated by special plunders.

Newspapers win or lose ground as they reflect majority sentiment. They promptly die when they don't.

This world, contrary to Mr. Belloc's notion, is ruled by twenty-six black little gods in a teeming machine—not by grasp and theory.
